IS THERE ANY OTHER TIME THAN NOW?

...and whatever other command there may be, are summed up in this one command: "Love your neighbor as yourself." Love does no harm to a neighbor. Therefore love is the fulfillment of the law. And do this, understanding the present time: The hour has already come for you to wake up from your slumber, because our salvation is nearer now than when we first believed.

Romans 13: 9b-11 (NIV)

There is no time like the present? There is no time BUT the present. Whichever clever way you choose to characterize time's existence, in reality the past and the future do not exist. Every second of your life is lived now right now. The truth of this does not keep us from allowing the phantoms of yesterday's memories and tomorrow's worries to suffocate the only thing you really have: the present.

"Therefore I tell you, do not worry about your life, what you will eat or drink; or about your body, what you will wear. Is not life more than food, and the body more than clothes? Look at the birds of the air; they do not sow or reap or store away in barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not much more valuable than they? Can any one of you by worrying add a single hour to your life? "And why do you worry about clothes? See how the flowers of the field grow. They do not labor or spin. Yet I tell you that not even Solomon in all his splendor was dressed like one of these. If that is how God clothes the grass of the field, which is here today and tomorrow is thrown into the fire, will he not much more clothe you—you of little faith? So do not worry, saying, 'What shall we eat?' or 'What shall we drink?' or 'What shall we wear?' For the pagans run after all these things, and your heavenly Father knows that you need them. But seek first his kingdom and his righteousness, and all these things will be given to you as well. Therefore do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will worry about itself. Each day has enough trouble of its own.

Matthew 16:25-34 (NIV)

So when will you let your soul lead you instead of your head? We celebrated the birth of Jesus into the world, your world, in December. Listen for his voice now calling your soul to follow him. Your head will tell you a thousand reasons that now is not the time. What is your soul saying?

Healthy Food Drive coming soon – look in bulletin for details.

Thank you for all your support.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION ~ By: Lorie Bouveroux, Christian Ed Coordinator

EXCITING NEWS IN CHRISTIAN FORMATION: INTRODUCTION OF GODLY PLAY INTO OUR CURRICULUM

So, what does this mean? And why am I so excited?

Godly Play is a method of curriculum that explores the mystery of God's presence in our lives. In this day and age when all of our kids are plugged in, Godly Play is a way of connecting with ourselves and others in a gentle environment where scripture and parables come to life using beautifully crafted manipulatives and through one of the tenets of our Christian tradition, storytelling. I was trained in Godly Play about six years ago when the congregation I was working with was going through a divisive transition. It was a radical change from the traditional church school program we were running. The interim clergy wanted to make a statement and this program was implemented in six weeks ... which is not recommended by the trainers and the curriculum developers. Despite the crazy transition, this program was transformative. Doubters expressed concern that a simple storytelling approach would not resonate with our plugged in, fast paced children and that they would be bored. The exact opposite happened. The children (and some of the adults who came to formation because they were curious) were energized and renewed by feeling the presence of God through the scripture and stories that make up our traditions.

A side effect - there were a number of children that did not come to church or church school because they felt they did not have a place. There were kids we did not know in our congregation (and some that we did) that were on the Autism Spectrum, were diagnosed with learning disabilities like ADD and Dyslexia, that struggled with a traditional curriculum. These children came to class and became involved. They also were able to experience God speaking to them through sacred story.

How will this Look at Unity Hill?

Beginning after Easter and continuing until June, one Sunday a month (first Sunday) church school tradition will use the Godly Play method. The balance of the month will be traditional instruction. A space in the classroom area will be set up for Godly Play and will remain sacred space for that purpose. We will invite people from the community in using social media and the local newspaper to take part in our worship and in our formation. Using a gradual approach, we can determine if Godly Play works for our formation group. I will be putting more information out on a weekly basis.

I leave you with words about Godly Play from the Godly Play Foundation's website:

The Godly Play method is a curriculum of spiritual practice exploring the mystery of God's presence in our lives. The Godly Play curriculum engages what is most exciting about religious education: God inviting us into—and pursuing us in the midst of—Scripture and spiritual experience. Godly Play practice teaches us to listen for God and to make authentic and creative responses to God's call in our lives. It is a creative, imaginative approach to Christian formation and spiritual guidance and has a foundation of 40+ years of research and practice. Godly Play values process, openness, discovery, community and relationships. It models the worship life, stories, symbols and rituals of Christian congregations. Godly Play allows practitioners to make relevant and personal theological meaning. Godly Play nurtures participants to larger dimensions of belief and faith through wondering and play.

BUILDING AND GROUNDS COMMITTEE ~ By: Sharon Brezina, Chair

Though we are enjoying a little down time, the work still never stops

Take a look at the B&G bulletin board showing the progression to the new bathrooms. So much work went into it – with a few surprises along the way – but a great outcome!! Thanks to Ken Parker & crew!

B&G will be looking into new security cameras, signage for the hill and removing some dead bushes from the back.

Clean-up time is not far away – please consider helping B&G keep our building and grounds safe and clean. Keep an eye out for the sign-up sheet and join in the fun!!

Remember - if you have any spare time and would like to help around our church and grounds that would be great - we have many projects that can use attention. A sign-up sheet is on the bulletin board or see a B&G committee member.

Take care – stay safe and warm,

God Bless, Steve, Trevor and Sharon

HEALTH CORNER: GETTING ENOUGH SLEEP

Everyone needs to get enough sleep. Sleep helps keep your mind and body healthy.

How much sleep do I need? Most adults need 7 to 8 hours of good quality sleep on a regular schedule each night. Make changes to your routine if you can't find enough time to sleep. Getting enough sleep isn't only about total hours of sleep. It's also important to get good quality sleep on a regular schedule so you feel rested when you wake up. If you often have trouble sleeping – or if you don't feel well rested after sleeping – talk with your doctor.

Getting enough sleep has many benefits. It can help you: get sick less often, stay at a healthy weight, lower your risk for serious health problems, like diabetes and heart disease, reduce stress and improve your mood, think more clearly and do better in school and at work, get along better with people, make good decisions and avoid injuries – for example, sleepy drivers cause thousands of car accidents every year

Does it matter when I sleep? Your body sets your “biological clock” according to the pattern of daylight where you live. This helps you naturally get sleepy at night and stay alert during the day. If you have to work at night and sleep during the day, you may have trouble getting enough sleep. It can also be hard to sleep when you travel to a different time zone.

Many things can make it harder for you to sleep, including: stress, pain, certain health conditions, like heartburn or asthma, some medicines, caffeine (usually from coffee, tea, and soda), alcohol and other drugs, untreated sleep disorders, like sleep apnea or insomnia.

If you are having trouble sleeping, try making changes to your routine to get the sleep you need. You may want to: Change what you do during the day – for example, exercise in the morning instead of at night. Create a good sleep environment, which includes making sure your bedroom is dark and quiet. Set a bedtime routine – and go to bed at the same time every night.

Sleep disorders can cause many different problems. Keep in mind that it's normal to have trouble sleeping every now and then. People with sleep disorders generally experience these problems on a regular basis. Common signs of sleep disorders include: trouble falling or staying asleep, difficulty getting out of bed after a good night's sleep, sleepiness during the day that makes it difficult to do everyday activities, like driving a car, frequent loud snoring, pauses in breathing or gasping while sleeping, itchy feelings in your legs or arms at night that feel better when you move or massage the area, trouble moving your arms and legs when you wake up.

If you have any of these signs, talk to a doctor or nurse. You may need to be tested or treated for a sleep disorder. For more information:
